Product Details

The Sauder Palladia collection brings together traditional design features with versatile storage options. Pilasters, framed panel doors, and contoured bases can be found throughout the collection, creating a consistent traditional appearance. The finish options in this collection give a sense of warmth and is offset nicely with each shade of hardware.

Wardrobe cabinet has a melamine surface over engineered wood, which is a combination of wood materials bonded together with a synthetic resin. The cabinet's large upper storage area includes a garment rod to hang coats. The lower pull-out drawer provides additional storage space.

Assembly required. Professional assembly available; call for details.
