Product Details

Get privacy that pleases the eye, with the Wave Collection by Loftwall. This panel wall partition that blends beautiful form with function. Its alternating curved panels help buffer sound, and the airy light design brightens up every room.

The interlocking frame is 75% recycled aluminum with a powder-coat finish. And the 100\"W wave panel wall partition is freestanding and movable, too, making it easy to reconfigure rooms anytime. Wave allows designers and space planners to set aside space for intentional use while giving the area a feeling of importance. Allow selective amounts of natural light and sound to pass through with Wave's unique design. Wave brings an arrangement of undulating panels which provide a visual barrier, yet also allow air & light to pass through openings. The design functions as a filter between spaces. Wave's curved panel shape dampens sound and redirects ambient light to pass through the screen's openings.

Assembly required.
